The Art Of Packaging

Noghre Fam Poosh company, as the first producer of pre-stretch and coreless stretch films in Iran, focuses on innovation and product sustainability, striving to offer advanced packaging methods to its customers, especially in the furniture industries.

- Coreless stretch film is a type of stretch film in which the cardboard core has been eliminated, allowing users to easily handle lighter rolls for manual applications with greater convenience.

Specifications of NFP coreless rolls

Thickness	12-23 μ
Length	300-1000m
Width	375-500mm

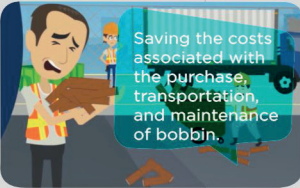

- Based on ordering, all NFP stretch films are capable of being produced in various thicknesses in coreless form.

 Advantages

No need for collect bobbin. Enhance safety and reduce risk

Saving the costs associated with the purchase, transportation, and maintenance of bobbin.

Eco-Friendly

Elimination of waste generated from bobbin

Saves money

- For easier handling of coreless rolls, a tool called a roll dispenser is used to ensure that the film is applied uniformly and efficiently onto the product.

- Fully reusable
- Faster wrapping speed
- User-friendly
- Completely safe for hand

● Pre-stretch film is a type of stretch film where the pre-stretch process occurs during production, resulting in the product having sufficient strength in packaging without the need for high strain force. (The stretching level will vary between 50 to 300 percent based on customer requirements.)
